

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 Systems for automatically facilitated marketing and provision of electronic services include a cycler configured to search through a plurality of databases to match user input with sales information in the databases and to provide keywords resulting from the search. An analyzer is operatively coupled to the cycler and configured to provide a set of potential services to be sold to a customer based on the keywords obtained from the cycler. Other systems and methods are also provided.